To Whom It May Concern,

I have had the pleasure of working alongside Sanela for several years, and find her to be an enthusiastic, intelligent individual with a unique excitement for life and opportunity.

She has demonstrated excellent communication skills, with clients and colleagues ranging from multiple cultural backgrounds, genders and levels of seniority. She has always been a well loved team member, willing to help and support even beyond her role remit, and has a work ethic I rarely encounter.

I would happily recommend Sanela as I truly believe she brings a level of experience and energy that will compliment any role.

Please feel free to contact me with any queries,
